LEWIS MACHINE & TOOL CO.

Lewis Machine & Tool Co. now offers the new Lewis CQB MRP in 6.8mm. The 6.8mm has proven to be more accurate at longer ranges and have greater hitting power than the 5.56. Now Lewis Machine & Tool Co. has incorporated the 6.8 caliber into its CQB Monolithic Rail Platform (MRP) product lineup. The Close Quarter Battle MRP 6.8 package includes a 16-inch chrome-lined barrel, a bolt carrier group, a charging handle assembly, and a 25-round magazine. The barrel is secured by two fasteners that run through the bottom of the base of the barrel. A T-handle torque wrench is all it takes for a quick switch of barrels. The barrel is completely free floating. Accessories (lights, scopes, lasers, grips, and sights) and/or barrels can be changed with little, if any, deviation to the point of impact or point of aim. The MRP has four military standard 1913 rails with a top rail that extends from the rear of the upper receiver to the front of the MRP. The suggested retail price is $1650.
